Championship

La Vallée - 1901 - PAR 72

La Vallée was designed by the renowned golf architect Willie Park Jr, winner of 2 British Open.

The course is considered very technical, with narrow fairways and large greens defended by deep bunkers, requiring a very good short game.

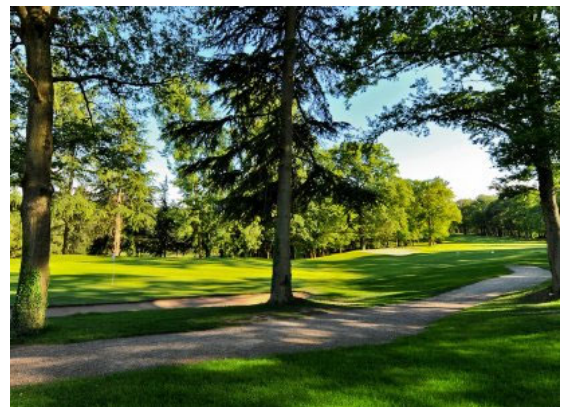

Hosting the French Open 19 times, it witnessed victories of many great golf champions such as Arnaud Massy, Byron Nelson, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Severiano Ballesteros, Fred Couples and Tiger Woods at the World Amateur Championship in 1994.

Cup

La Forêt - 1968 - PAR 72

La Forêt is a long and demanding course, located in the heart of a beautiful and well-preserved forest, displaying literally hundreds of different species of trees. It offers a rare atmosphere of quietness.

With its narrow fairways, it gives a real golfing challenge to the best players.

Presidents and Ladies competition
